KAISER TO FRAME NEW RULE OF WAR

Hopes to Provide for Safety of Subjects of Neutral Nations

CAUSE OF THE DELAY.

Accepts Demand of the United States That Germany Recognize Rights of Neutral Nations.

Washington, July 6.—Germany hopes to frame what will prove a new rule of international warfare in her reply to the United States.

She hopes to provide for the safety of neutrals afloat while at the same time safeguarding the great advantage submarine warfare now affords her. That is the real reason in the opinion of many high officials here, for the present delay in the completion of the new German reply. Officials declared today they would not be surprised if another couple of weeks went by before the note was handed to Ambassador Gerard.

Germany has accepted, in informal conferences with the American ambassador, the concrete demand of the United States that she recognize the right of American citizens to travel on the high seas secure in the protection of the flag so long as the vessels they are on are neither warships nor violate the regulations governing merchant vessels in time of war.

But she has rejected the suggestion that "in the interest of humanity" she refrain from torpedoing merchantmen of every class. But Germany wants the United States, and at the same time all other neutral nations, to aid her in safeguarding the lives of neutrals.

She would like to have some plan adopted whereby vessels carrying absolute contraband of war will not be permitted to carry passengers. Failing in this, and this seems likely, she would like to have all vessels which carry neutral passengers plainly marked, so that they could be identified by German submarines and thus made immune from attack. It is understood that all of this has been made very plain to Ambassador Gerard, and that he is in constant touch with President Wilson, through Secretary of State Lansing, and that eventually the German note will be framed along lines that will meet with his approval. It is recognized that Germany must defend the general principle of the use of the submarine.

AUDACITY OF SUBMARINE.

Puts in Work of Destruction in Sight of Patrolling Torpedo Boats.

London July 6—With audacity that has caused surprise in shipping circles, the commander of a German submarine halted the French schooner Hirondelle forty miles off the coast of Britany in plain sight of two patrolling torpedo boats and, after giving the crew three minutes to escape, sent the vessel to the bottom. The torpedo boats were less than three miles away when the submarine, reserving her costly torpedoes for worthier game, opened a shell fire from her deck gun and ripped the Hirondelle to pieces. The French craft carried a corgo of timber for England. The submarine disappeared under the surface and the captain and his crew of seven were picked up shortly after by the Spanish steamer Juan.

The big Norwegian iron bark Firy Cross was stricken from shipping records today when her crew was picked up after having drifted aimlessly for twenty hours in open boats where they sought safety when a German submarine torpedoed the vessel seventy miles off the Scilly Islands.

The same fate befell the little wooden schooner Sunbeam, of Wick. The steam packet Carthage was torpedoed off ape Helles. One man was lost.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carter and little son, Howard, motored to Round Hill yesterday.

WIN FROM BRADDOCKS.

Cardinals Defeat Rivals by Score of 3 to 2.

The Cardinal and Braddocks played the most interesting and exciting baseball game of the season in the Cardinal baseball park Sunday. The contest was nick and tuck up to the ninth inning with the score 2 to 1 in the Braddock's favor.

In the Cardinals half of the ninth inning "Lucky" Lynn was sent to bat as a pinch hitter and held up his reputation in fine style by scoring the tying run. Later Lynch crossed the home plate when the Braddocks' catcher allowed the ball to pass him. None of the Cardinals were out when the winning run was tallied. Both teams played airtight baseball and the large number of fans who saw the game were well pleased with the exhibition. Capt. Merchant carried off the batting honors—making four hits in five times at bat. The final score was as follows: Cardinals, 3; Braddock, 2.

CHANCE SAVED MORGAN

Superintendent of Washington Police Tells of his Talk With Holt

Washington, July 6—Chance saved J. Pierpont Morgan from being blown to pieces, in the opinion of Major Pullman, superintendent of the Washington police, who has returned from New York, after interviewing Frank Holt.

"The chauffeur who drove Holt to the Morgan country house told me," said Major Pullman, "that his passenger said to him as they left the station:

" 'I am an old personal friend of Mr. Morgan, and he is anxious to see me. But I have only a short time in which to talk to him, so if we meet him in his machine on the road, you throw his suitcase into his car and I will climb in with him.'

"Had this meeting occurred and had the suitcase been thrown into Mr. Morgan's car, it might have blown up everybody, as it is now known to have contained three sticks of 60 per cent pure dynamite, a highly dangerous explosive."

VIRGINIA PARTY REACH DENVER

Hospitality of Colorado Peo- .. ple to People of this State

ON WAY TO SALT LAKE

Whole Party Entertained at Breakfast by Chamber of Commerce—Salute Fired at Station.

Denver, Col., July 6.—Never before in the history of the city of Denver have her doors been thrown any wider open than on Independence Day to Governor Henry Carter Stuart, of Virginia, his staff and escort, the Richmond Light Infantry Blues, on their way to the Panama Pacific Exposition at San Fransisco.

From the moment the Virginians crossed the State line the hospitality of the people of Colorado was unbounded. Shortly after daylight a representative of the Adjutant-General's office boarded the train and welcomed Governor Stuart and his party to Colorado. He then conferred with Governor Stuart's staff as to the details of the reception, which proved one of the most notable in Denver's history. As the Virginian's special train rolled into the station a battery of artillery fired a Governor's salute and this proved the signal for the beginning of the delightful hospitality that followed.

It was a beautiful day, a cool wind blowing from the peaks of the snow capped Rockies over the city and furnishing fine marching conditions. As the Blues' battalion swung out of the station and passed up the street, their white plumes were caught in the breezes, and the silk colors of the Governor of Virginia swung straight out and fluttered jauntily as if bearing a message to the good people of Colorado from their sister Commonwealth by the sea. Simultaneously the crowds along the street broke into applause, and cheer after cheer was given as the Governor and the crack battalion passed.

The Virginians were the guests of the Denver Chamber of Commerce at a delicious breakfast, which was followed by a parade with the First Troop of Colorado Cavalry leading the band of the First Regiment of Infantry, Colorado National Guards pounding out "Dixie" while the crowd cheered. The parade followed the principal thoroughfares of Denver, and on its conclusion the Governor and his party were taken in automobiles to the Capitol grounds and other points of interest, Lieutenant-Governor Lewis, heading the reception committee in the absence of Governor Lewis heading the reception at Old Point Comfort.

United States Senator Thomas also assited in entertaining the visitors and Mayor Sharpleigh, a native of Norfolk, showed that he had brought Virginia ideas of hospitality to the West with him.

At the station a large crowd gathered to say farewell to the visitors, and cheered them as their train pulled out for Salt Lake City, via Pueblo.

AMERICA AND GERMANY

Admiral von Truppel Warns His Countrymen Against Fiction With United States

Berlin, July 6—Admiral Oscar von Truppel, at one time governor of Kiauchau, the German concession in the Chinese province of Shantung, captured in November by the Japanese, contributes an article to Der Tag, warning his compatriots not to underestimate the danger of a breach with the United States, and asking them to weigh seriously the questions whether the value of Germany's submarine warfare against British commerce is great enough to justify a continuance of its present form at the expense of a rupture with the transatlantic nation.

Admiral von Truppel in his article writes:

"A German-American war, or even a rupture of diplomatic relations, the effect of which would virtually be as great, would injure German prospects more seriously than many believe.

"Although America at first would be able to contribute little to the military strength of the entente allies except by an acceleration of munitions supply, it could in time cooperate with considerable land and sea forces and with first-class sumarines and aeroplanes in complete sialation of Germany. It also could exercise such pressure upon the few remaining neutral countries that these would probably be arrayed actively or passively in the ranks of our enemies."

Admiral von Truppel discounts the stories of earlier existing American agreement with Great Britain against Germany, explaning that this is most improbable, owing to American diplomatic traditions. "But it is undeniable," he says, "in spite of President Wilson's unquestionable desire to reach a peaceful solution of the problems, that the sympathies of a majority of Americans are on the side of England and that only a spark might be necessary under certain conditions to kindle this feeling into a hostile outbreak."

STORM ACTS AS REPRIEVE

Double Hanging Delayed Six Minutes When Scaffold is Disabled

Moundsville, W. Va., July 6.—Attendants untied the hands and feet of William Thomas and William R. Stewart, both colored, and removed the black caps from their heads when the apparatus for springing the trap of the scaffold in the death chamber of the West Virginia Penitentiary refused to work during a storm shortly after 5 o'clock Friday afternoon. The condemned men were led back to their cells.

No explanation was made to the two men and under the impression that the Governor had spared their lives Thomas jumped up and down like a child and Stewart fell on his knees to offer a prayer of thanks. Six minutes later they were taken back and this time the trap was sprung. They were pronounced dead 10 minutes later.

Thomas killed his wife at Warwood a suburb of Wheeling. Stewart murdered the chief of police of Ronceverte, W. Va., after being arrested. Both made confessions before going to the scaffold. The crimes were committed last year.

JURY SCORES GEORGIA MOB

Indicts 25 Men Charged With Rioting Near Slaton's Home

Atlanta, July 6.—A special presentment condemning "the recent manifestations of mob violence" in Atlanta and Fulton county and declaring it the duty of the courts to be "active and unrelenting against the offenders and punish them to the limit" was submitted to Judge Hill, in the Superior Court, by the county grand jury, which was discharged last week.

Judge Hill, after hearing the presentment read, stated he concurred in it heartily.

No date has been set for the trial of the 25 men indicted several days ago on charges of rioting near the suburban home of former Governor Slaton.

GERMANS WIN INITIAL BATTLE

Russians Forced to Retire on a Thirty-eight Mile Front

SHELLING TRENCHES

Hundreds of Thousands of Austro-German Shells Blow Out Whole Sections of Earthworks.

Petrograd, July 6—By a terrific bombardment of the Russian trenches General Mackensen has won a temporary victory in the first stages of the great battle south of Lublin, the war office admitted today.

From Krasnik, eastward to the Wieprz river, the Russians have been forced to retire on a thirty-eight-mile front. All day Sunday the Austro-Germans shelled the Russian trenches, hurling hundreds of thousands of projectiles and blowing out whole sections of earthworks. When these positions were no longer tenable, the Russians retired upon new defensive positions less than twenty miles from Lublin.

Mackensen's right wing, however, was checked and thrown back by the Russians. Between the Wiepriz river and the Bug, all Austro-German attacks were beaten back with heavy losses. In one narrow sector between Krylof and Sokal, fifty-eight miles north of Lemberg, the Rusians took several hundred prisoners.

PLAN TO STOP THE WAR.

Power Alleged to be in the Hands of President Wilson.

George W. Hoadley, president of the American and British Manufacturing Company, New York, whose enormous plant at Bridgeport, Conn., is running night and day solely in the production of munitions of war is quoted as saying:

"President Wilson is the one man in the world who can stop this war. Let him call a convention of all the neutral nations. Then let the peaceful powers demand that the belligerents declare an armistice of 30 days. In that period let the neutral and warring countries, duly constituted as a court of arbitration, with the belligerents agreeing to abide by the decision of that court, determine, by a majority vote of them all, terms of peace.

"Let Mr. Wilson, I say, take the initiative tomorrow in setting in motion such a procedure, and before the summer is over the end of the war and the return of peace will be known at every fireside in the world."

ATTACKED BY SUBMARINE

Twelve Men Killed on British Ship While Running from Sea Terror

London, July 6—The big British steamship Anglo-California limped into Queenstown harbor yesterday a veritable floating shambles after having outrun a German submarine. Her wireless apparatus, her bridge and up upper works shot away, her funnels pierced and her decks littered with dead and dying, she accomplished the feat vainly attempted by the ill-fated Armenian a week ago in the same waters.

Like the latter vessel she was laden with transport animals for the British army—a cargo of horses shipped from Montreal on June 24. Panic among the latter during the following the bombardment to which the Anglo California was subjected added to the horror of the situation.

The commander who brought her through the hail of shots, shell, and rifle fire—Capt. Parslow—paid for the achievement with his life. He remained on the bridge amid the inferno until blown off by a shell. The officers who assumed his post found his body with one arm and one leg shot away.

The others of the crew who shared this fate were, like the captain, horrible mutilated. The dead number twelve. Eight others were desperately wounded and nearly all on board suffered more or less in the baptism of fire.

While the crew was largely British Americans and Canadians were in charge of the cargo of horses. Among these were D. F. Feeney, John Mahoney, and John Vaughan, of Newport News, Va., and George Rogers, of Richmond, Va.,

HELD AS VOODOO DOCTOR.

Negro Preacher Prescribed Rattles From Rattlesnakes.

Seaford, Del., July 6.—Because he failed to cure cases of rheumatism by onion powders or relieve headaches with the rattle from a rattlesnake Reuben Smith, a negro voodoo doctor, was arrested and taken to the county jail at Georgetown last week. Smith is accused of practicing medicine without a license, with selling drugs and with using voodoo practices.

He claims to be a Baptist minister and will set up a novel claim that, as a minister, he is given the authority by the church to relieve suffering and practice healing and "laying on of hands."

BRIDE SHOT AT HIS SIDE.

Acquaintance Charged With Adding Bullet to Words.

Norristown, Pa., July 6.—Mrs. John Dudick, a bride of three months was shot in the back Sunday afternoon in Fairview Heights, Bridgeport, not far from her home, and Mike Lecoski, a young married man arrested after the shooting, may have to answer a charge of murder, as the young woman is seriously wounded and is a patient of the Norristown Hospital.

Her husband says he and his wife were sitting in the woods when Lecoski came along, and, after speaking to them, ripped out a revolver and fired one shot at close range.

HOLT ATTEMPTS TO KILL HIMSELF

Assassin While in Cell Cuts Artery in Wrist With a Lead Pencil

NO SERIOUS INJURY

Pretty Girl From Texas Asks to be Allowed to See Prisoner—Her Appearance Adds Mystery.

Mineola, N. Y., July 6—Frank Holt, held in the jail here for attempting the life of J. P. Morgan, attempted to kill himself today in his cell.

Holt tried to cut an artery in his wrist with a lead pencil, but was stopped before he had done serious injury to himself.

Mineola, N. Y., July 6—A pretty young girl, who made a dramatic appearance at the county jail early today and demanded that she be allowed to see Frank Holt, injected a new element of mystery into the investigation of the activities of the man who set off the bomb in the capitol at Washington and attempted J. P. Morgan's life.

Warden Hulz, who refused the girl admittance, said she declined to give her name or her reasons for wanting to talk to Holt.

She had a letter, jail officials said, purporting to come from the chief of police of Dallas, Tex., asking that "every courtesy" be shown her.

The girl arrived here, presumably from New York, at 1:15 a. m. Holt told the jail authorities today he had no idea who his mysterious visitor could be. His wife, he said, was still in Dallas yesterday.

Though recovering from the beating he received at the hands of Morgan and the Morgan servants, Holt still is weak today from loss of blood. His preliminary hearing at Glen Cove will not be held until tomorrow. Then, if he is strong enough, he will tell everything in connection with his plot, he has promsed.

The police have not dropped the theory that Holt had accomplices both at Washington and in his attack on Morgan and are continuing their investigation along this line.

Mr. Morgan's physicians announced early today from Glen Cove that, because their patient is "practically out of danger," no more bulletins will be issued.

PACIFIC CELEBRATION

Anniversary of Proclaiming Declaration of Independence Observed Conservatively.

The Fourth of July afforded a double holiday this year, the day falling upon Sunday. The advent of the motorboat has in recent years provided a means for family and parties to embark in trips down the Potomac and many this year availed themselves of this means of proceeding to retreats on the river where they spent the day fishing and picknicking. Some left Saturday evening and did not return until toward the close of yesterday. As the sun was setting hundreds of such boats of all sizes and description dotted the river as far as the eye could read.

Automobiles conducted about as many more people to rural retreats, where the day was enjoyed amid nature's scenery. The weather during the early morning had been threatening. There were indications of rain and the temperature was considerably lower than that of Sunday. To the joy of the many whose hearts were set upon picknicking, the heavens became clear before noon, however.

Mayor Fisher's order against the use of explosives was generally observed during the day, and the main reminder of that feature which a few years ago was so much in evidence was the toy pistol of the small boy. The present type is outomatic and a roll of paper in the stock causes explosions so long as the trigger is pulled. It makes about as much noise as a parlor match or the crack of a whip, and is not calculated to startle any one.

At night, however, other devices were brought into play in some sections of the city. They were cannoncrakers, saluting pistols, etc. Railroad torpedoes were also placed upon the Wilkes street track, and train passing in an out of the tunnel exploded them.

No accidents occurred during the day. At night many Alexandrians visited Washington in order to witness the display of fireworks at the White House grounds last night.

COMPULSORY TAPPING

Law Compelling Connections to be Made This Month Likely to Stand.

The ordinance introduced by Mr. Brill in the Board of Aldermen at the last meeting extending the time for one year in which connections with sewers must be made by property owners has led many interested to assume that the measure will be adopted by the City Council. This is by no means certain, however, as it is understood that the committee on streets, to whom the ordinance was referred, are averse to its adoption and will so report to Council.

It will be remembered that at the last meeting a minority of the Aldermen expressed murmurs at the introduction of the ordinance, Mr. Ballenger suggesting that should the time for tapping sewers be extended one year a similar measure extending the time another year might be expected next July, and so the procedure would continue ad infinitum, which would result in a miscarriage of the purpose of Council. It was also suggested that persons who might, through no fault of their own, be delayed in making connections, could enter into satisfactory agreement with the committee in order that the work might be accomplished as soon as possible.

It is said that since the ordinance referred to was introduced there has been an almost total cessation in applications for permits to tap sewers.

The ordinance compelling persons whose property is situated on streets and alleys where sewers have been placed was adopted by Council three years ago in order to give all interested ample time in which to comply. Many have obeyed with the law, but a number have not.

TAX RATE UNCHANGED.

Residents of Alexandria County Will Pay $1.75 on $100 This Year.

Alexandria county tax payers will pay the same rate of taxation on their personal and realty holdings as last year according to a decision of the county board of supervisors. The tax levy will be $1.75 on each $100 divided as follows: Schools, 50 cents; roads, 5 cents; general county purposes, 65 cents. This last item heretofore has been 40 cents, but the board added the state tax of 25 cents which has been released to the county by the segregation plan of state taxation. The state tax of 10 cents for schools makes up the total of $1.75. Under the segregation plan the county loses the taxes on about $400,000 of intangible property, but the loss is more than made up by the addition to the county of the 25 cent state tax. It is estimated that the new county levy will yield a revenue of about $140,000 a year.

In the new county budget $2,500 a year has been provided for county surveyor and engineer services, which sum will be available to pay a county manager should one be decided upon later.

GERMAN SHIPS FLY U. S. FLAGS

But little attention was paid among shipping in Baltimore harbor yesterday in recognization of Indenpendence Day, the American vessels in particular being almost all bare of even the national flag. The British steamers in port took no part beyond raising the usual every day flag, a fact that marked several other foreigners in port.

But in bold contradistinction to an almost total ignoring of our greatest national holiday were the displays of the three interned German steamers in port. It was rather suggestive to notice the big four master Hamburg-American liner Bulgaria lying at Pier 6, Canton, with the stars and stripes flying from each of her four lofty trucks and strings of flags fluttering in the breeze from each mast to the rail. On the other side the Atlantic transport liner Maryland named after our own State, only showed what might be called the "working flags."

At the Locust Point piers the four-master steamer Rhein and Nectar, of the North German Lloyd, vied with their countrymen at Canton in clouds of flags from every truck to deck.

The German auxiliary cruisers Kronprinz Wilhelm and Prinz Eitel Friedrich, interned at the Norfolk Navy Yard, recognized the American holiday by displaying in addition to extra German naval emblems the international signal flags in long string extending from stem to stern of each vessel.

These indications of the esteem in which the Fatherland regards the United States are in season at this time when negotiations of a serious nature are in progress between the two countries. They will add weight to the belief that Germany is ready to accede to anything reasonable which will eliminate friction between that country and the American republic.

THE SPIRIT OF ANARCHY

The terrible convulsions incident to these days is causing many persons to lose sight of the fact that apart from the horrors the world is now facing from the clash of arms—of a more wholesale nature than any wars recorded in history—the bold acts of desperate men are causing apprehension everywhere. An attempt was made recently to destroy St. Patrick's Cathedral in New York. The would-be demolishers of that massive edifice were apprehended, and last night an attempt was made by their sympathizers to dynamite police headquarters in New York. This dastardly act followed close in the wake of an attempt to destroy the capitol of the United States by a explosive and the shooting of J. P. Morgan. The latter's home has now as closely guarded as was the palace of the Czar of Russia a few years ago.

The people of the United States, it is said, have no realization of the sufferings of their fellow-creatures living in the war zones of the old world. In East Prussia the devastation wrought by warring armies has brought starvation to thousands. Women and children are living in the open air with their anguish ever and anon augmented by news of the merciless slaughter of husbands, brothers and other kindred.

DANGERS OF LYNCHING.

Several times in recent years it has been shown that infuriated mobs in the south have lynched innocent negroes. Many people believe a similar mistake was made in Alexandria in 1889.

Two negroes were lynched at Gray Georgia, Sunday, who was suspected of murdering a white planter. It is now believed that the victims of the mob's fury were innocent of the crime for which their lives were taken.

SUBMARINE WAR HAS ITS BOOMERANG.

The sinking of the Lusitania will ever stand as one of the most horrible incidents of war. A British steamer arrived at Liverpool Sunday with its decks suggestive of the shambles. About a dozen men, including the captain, had been killed while the steamer was runing from a German submarine. We read every day of the destructive work of these modern sea terrors. In the olden times pictures were printed of huge imaginary sea serpents suddenly appearing alongside ships. The monster was represented as swallowing as many men as he could catch on deck The submarine of our day is a far more dangerous reality. But those operating them take their lives in their own hands. They are at times caught in huge nets and, like sturgeon, are held at bay until destroyed. The horror of men entombed in mines has often been described by those who have escaped and reached the upper earth. Men imprisoned in the deep are afforded an opportunity of realizing the feelings of the Hebrew prophet when he was in the stomach of a great fish in the Mediterranean.

Divers who inspected the German submarine wrecked recently off the mouth of the Ems found the crew still alive. It was impossible for the divers to raise the craft, however, and the men had to be left to their fate.

WEST VIRGINIA DEBT CASE.

According to those interested, there will be a number of hangfires before West Virginia accedes to the mandate of the United States Supreme Court and agrees to pay the sum allotted Virginia. There is a fight ahead as to who is to handle the money the younger state is required to pay. Each day's delay is now costing West Virginia seventeen hundred dollars. As has heretofore been stated, the offspring of the Old Dominion could, under the Elkins compromise measure, have settled the claim of Virginia by the payment of one million dollars.

AN ABSURD CHARGE

Some thoughtless people seem to imagine that the Kaiser is the Anti-Christ of these days. Some in England and France are now making the charge that the German ruler is responsible for the acts of the fanatic Holt who last Saturday shot J. P. Morgan.

This brings to mind the equally absurd charge, believed by many at the time, that Jefferson Davis was in the plot to kill Abraham Lincoln. After John Wilkes Booth had committed the murder, it will be remembered, the northern heart was fired to such an extent that the president of the Confederacy was lumbered among the conspirators and a large reward offered for the capture of Mr. Davis, who was at the time fleeing with his family from Richmond.

NEWS OF THE DAY

The total Turkish casualties in the Dardanelles operations between June 28 and July 2 are reported to have been 5,150 men killed and 15,000 wounded.

A Pere Marquette passenger train late Sunday struck an automobile at a grade crossing near the western limits of Detroit, Mich., killing three persons and injuring three others.

A threatened ministerial crisis resulting from criticism directed by the elder statesmen against the policy of Baron Kato, the Japanese foreign minister, is absorbing the country.

Three accomplices of Lieut. Col. Miassoyedoff, an interpreter on the staff of the Russian Tenth army, who some time ago was hanged as a spy, have been convicted after a trial by court-martial and also hanged.

The Russian general naval staff reports that a German battleship of the Deutschland type, which was leading the enemy's line during Friday's naval engagement in the Baltic Sea, was blown up by two torpedoes discharged by a Russian submarine.

Paul Franzen, mechanist for William Carlson, a driver in the 250-mile Montamarathon automobile race, held on the Tacoma, Wash., speedway Sunday, was killed and Carlson injured in an upset near the windup of the contest.

An unidentified man and his wife and small son were burned to death in a fire which gutted a Roumanian rooming house at Indianapolis, Saturday night. Another little boy, was burned so seriously that he is not expected to recover.

Thomas R. Marshall, Vice President of the United States, in a statement to newspaper reporters in St. Louis Sunday night said that he had been threatened with death in more than a dozen anonymous letters which he has received recently.

Caught with their rowboat in a 50-mile gale on Lake Erie near Toledo, Ohio, Sunday night, Valentine N. Huber, 18 years old, an advertising clerk, and Paul Sheeter, 20 years old, also a clerk, were drowned when their craft was upset by the waves.

Russian aviators yesterday bombarded an Austrian envoy near Lejersk, in Galicia. Seven bombs were dropped on the railway station at Przeworsk. An ammunition train was blown up and the Austro-German communications were interrupted.

Robert Mayer's a family of four was wiped out by death when their automobile was struck by an express train at the unguarded grade crossing of the New Jersey Southern Railroad Sunday afternoon near Farmingdale, N. J., Sunday afternoon.

The condition of J. P. Morgan who was shot last Saturday morning by Frank Holt, at his home, near Glencove, continues most favorable. The bullet did not enter the abdomen and an X-ray examination showed that no bones have been damaged.

Her arms upraised as though to defend herself and with the marks of fingers on her throat, the body of Mrs. Celestine Donau, 97 years old, was discovered Sunday by the police in the house in Palmyra, N. J., where she lived alone for more than 30 years.

Two steamships have been added to the list of British vessels sunk by German submarines, the Renfrew, in ballast from Marseille to Cardiff, and the 4,355-ton steel coaler Larchmore, from Cardiff to Bombay. Both were destroyed by shellfire about 75 miles from the Folf lighthouse off the Irish coast.

Patrolman William J. Davidson, 48 years old, of Wilmington, Del., was probably fatally injured yesterday afternoon while arresting two street fighters. One of the men, Patrick Cunnigham, who says his home is in Philadelphia, shot the officer through the abdomen and through the leg.

Four persons were drowned Sunday night in Lake St. Clair, near Wallaceburg, Ont., as the result of a sudden squall which capsized a launch in which they were riding. There were nine in the party. Five were rescued by another launch after they had clung to their overturned craft for several hours.

Special Officer William Lankford was shot and fatally wounded yesterday morning by Albert Tull, a rival officer in Seaford, Del. The men were employed by merchants as night watchmen and a feeling of animosity has existed between them for some time. Lankford, who it is said, was under the influence of liquor, attacked Tull with a blackjack.

The finding of the body of a well-dressed young woman in St. Mary's Park New York, early yesterday gave the police a baffling mystery, as the slayer left not a clew that can be found to work upon. The woman, who was good looking, was choked to death. To make sure that she could make no outcry, a handkerchief had been stuffed into her mouth.

With two negroes already lynched and three others in jail, a posse of fifty Jones County, Ga., farmers yesterday continued to search for John Rickey and Thomas Brooks, who are accused of the murder of Salis Turner, a prosperous farmer at Round Oak, Sunday. Turner was shot in the back of the head with a shotgun when he went to a negro's house to collect a small debt.

Accompanied by Premier Salandra, King Victor Emmanuel, who is at the front, mounted the belfry of the cathedral at Monfalcone and looked across the intervening country of Trieste, glittering in the sunshine, 15 miles away. Trieste is one of the chief objectives of the Italian army that invaded Austria. From the church spire the King and his premier could plainly see the city surmounted by Austrian forts.

Dispatches from Constantinpole say that the latest mail reaching the Turkish capital from India contains exhaustive reports of fresh riots at Lahore, in the British Indian province of Punjab. The Indian cavalry is reported to have mutinied and after being joined by other soldiers and street gatherings to have killed their officers and English civilians and to have pillaged and destroyed a number of hotels and houses. Ten high government officers are reported to have been among the victims.

Anarchists, angered by the conviction of the men who placed a bomb in St. Patrick's Cathedral, New York, last night attempted to blow up the police headquarters by exploding a powerful dynamite bomb beneath the offices of Inspector Joseph Faurot, Inspector Gray and the detective bureau. The bomb exploded, smashing all of the windows on that side of the building, reducing a three-inch oak door to kindling wood, hurling desks and furniture from their position and showering glass as fine as powder for fifty feet both inside and outside of the building.

Preparations are being made in Constantinople for a siege of the town, which is expected soon. "Useless" persons—those who are unable to participate in the military defense of the city—have been ordered to quit the capital. All Christians also have been ordered to evacuate Constantinople, while the Mohammedans actually in the capital are to be sent to Asia Minor. Scutari, a city on the Asiatic coast of the Bosphorus, also has been evacuated by the civil population. The Turks have mounted guns at such positions as to be able to destroy the great Mosque of Saint Sophia as soon as the allies enter Constantipole.

Sam Boyd lies in a critical condition at Halycon Hospital, South Boston, with a pistol wound in his left side opposite the appendix, inflicted by C. J. Fisher as the result of an altercation Saturday morning. Both men are white. Fisher is about 30 and Boyd 40 years of age and both reside on the same farm within a half mile of each other, midway between Scottsburg and Clover, where the shooting occurred.

Frank Holt, assailant of J. Pierpont Morgan, was assistant instructor in modern languages at Emory and Henry College, the Methodist School at Emory, near Bristol, during the 1912-13 session. Prof. A. G. Williams, head of this department, says of Holt: "I am confident Holt is mentally unbalanced. He was scholarly, but eccentric, and very odd in his manner. He had an utter abhorrance of bloodshed, and his hallucination about stopping the war must have come from a supersensitiveness touching his well-known views.

The body of an unidentified white man was dragged from the waters of the lake in Lakeside Park, Richmond, early last night. The body bore every indication of a murder having been committed. An iron kettle containing several heavy rocks was bound to the man's waist by a wire, while two wounds, one in the chest and another in the back, pointed to the manner in which the man had met death. The wounds are thought to have been made by a pistol or a shotgun fired at close range.

Not in the recollection of the present hotel generation have there been such Fourth of July registers as the hostelries at Norfolk and vicinity show this year. Every hotel in the downtown district was filled up Saturday and Sunday with not a room or bed to spare and all of them turned away applicants by the score. Hundreds of those unable to get accommodations at the Norfolk hotels went to the beaches for accommodations. The Ocean View and Willoughby hotels filled up and the overflow gave the cottages about all that they could handle. Virginia Beach drew its quota and helped to relieve the situation.

D. C. Jennings, about 22 years old, of Charlottesville, went to Washington yesterday to get married. Jennings brought with him Miss Pearl Blaksdale, a pretty girl of 18, who had hoped to celebrate the day by becoming Mrs. D. C. Jennings. W. Albie Blaksdale, the girl's brother, came along too, to serve as best man. The party went to the New Ebbitt. Jennings sought out the clerk and asked where he could find a jewelry store. He was crestfallen when told all the stores were closed, for he had failed to purchase a ring. He was further disheartened to learn that City Hall was closed for the day. Also, to his sorrow, he discovered that most of the clergymen were out celebrating.

Capt. P. H. McCaull, 64 years old, a leading Republican of Virginia, died in Lynchburg Saturday night. He was a native of Scotland and came to this country with his parents at the age of 5. Captain McCaull was the Republican nominee for Governor against the late Chas. T. O'Ferrell. He was collector of internal revenue for Lynchburg district, relinquishing the office in 1893. He became assistant postmaster at Lynchburg July 1, 1902, which office he held until his death. He was on several occasions candidate for Congress from the Alexandria district. During the Spanish-American war and subsequent campaigns in the Phillippines, Capt. McCaul had charge of the army transport Egbert, having the commission of major in the volunteers. He conveyed supplies to Cuba and Porto Rico and later to the Philippines and finally to China during the Boxer troubles.

MAKE THE KITCHEN LIVABLE

DON'T swelter over a hot coal stove this summer. The NEW PERFECTION Oil Cook-stove keeps your kitchen cool and clean and does away with all the ash-pan, coal-hod drudgery of the coal range.

The NEW PERFECTION lights like gas, regulates like gas, and cooks like gas. It's gas stove comfort with kerosene oil.

Something New. An oven that becomes a fireless cooker merely by pulling a damper. Ask your dealer to show you the NEW PERFECTION No. 7, with fireless cooking oven; also the PERFECTION WATER HEATER. It gives you plenty of hot water, yet leaves you independent of the hot, sooty coal range.
